Re: UPDATE: 4-Button Universal Remote

Please be advised of these immediate updates – there is a new look and a new temporary part/model number for the universal 4-button remote. The new item is available for order from your source for Genie products.

- Model and Part Number:
 - The NEW temporary part number is 40659S (original was 40659R)
 - The NEW temporary model number is GU4TR2-P (original was GU4T-BX)
- Aesthetics: Based on voice of customer requests - the case color of the remote has been changed from white to black and has been clearly marked as part of the universal family.
- Functionality: The new remote part number does not have the Teach & Pair capability or FAAC compatibility. Market availability of certain parts forced us to make these temporary adjustments quickly to keep inventory in our pipelines. The original functionality will return and another PIB will be issued at that time. The black/red coloring will remain.
- Contents: The new remotes still come with both a visor clip or keychain option in the box and they still use the same service parts as before (no changes).
