Re: Product Phase-Out: 3-Button Bowtie Remote, Model GTR-3

The Genie Company would like to inform all customers that the 3-button "bowtie" remote will begin a phase-out process.

The bowtie remote sells well due to some of its aesthetic features but has older, single frequency technology inside. As we strive to provide our customers with the most up to date features and products, it has become apparent that this remote was due to be updated.

We are pleased to announce that we are launching a new remote that will include those preferred features from the bowtie (larger general size, larger buttons, better tactile feel, horizontal visor orientation, etc...), as well as include our patented dual frequency technology (315/390MHz). The new product is available for order from your source for Genie products starting today, May 16th.

The bowtie remote will be available on a first come first serve basis until inventory is depleted.
